KY Tick Surveillance Program

"The Kentucky Tick Surveillance Project directly contributes to our understanding of tickborne diseases and their distribution across the state," said Jonathan Larson, UK Department of Entomology assistant professor. "By the community participating, Kentuckians are not only aiding in crucial public health research but are also taking proactive steps toward safeguarding their own health and their neighbor's."

Follow STRICT Guidelines

- Must Submit Digital Form
- Do Not Mail Live Ticks:
- Avoid Liquid Alcohol:
- Proper Packaging:
- Avoid Taping Ticks:
